Field of the Invention The present invention relates to an ATM (Asynchronous Transfer Mode) exchange system and a processing method of a cell signal in the ATM exchange system, and more particularly to an ATM exchange system having plural exchangers coupled to a common transmission path to connect switching units of the individual exchangers to each other, each switching unit having a signal processor and the switch-over of ATM cells by a cell switch such as an ATM-switching circuit, and to a processing method of a cell signal in the ATM exchange system. 2. Description of the Related Art In an ATM exchange system in which an ATM switch-over is performed, an address of a cell buffer is written in a cell header field at the time of switching cells, and a route of the cell through the switching unit is determined according to a field of the cell header which is read out by a cell processor. The cell processor has a function to read out the cell header of the cell which is stored in the buffer, and to transfer the cell after processing it. In such an ATM exchange system, it is necessary to give priority to the cell which has a destination address written in a cell header field during the cell switch-over to buffer the cell in the buffer. In a known ATM exchange system, the cell header is transferred to a route memory when a cell is transferred thereto. The cell which is input to the cell buffer is transferred to the switch-over control processor and then to the switch-over processor. The switch-over control processor and the switch-over processor are connected to a microprocessor, and the route control signal of the cells are transferred from the microprocessor to the switch-over control processor and the switch-over processor. The switch-over control processor and the switch-over processor read the cell header of the cell which is input thereto and transfer the cells to the route memory and a buffer memory, respectively.

lilkviiiXX 07-05 03:10 PM What is captcha? 1.) when you put a specified text in a field, there is a color that will change. We have to identify these colors for other programs to work with. 2.) We click the image and see what this color looks like. This lets us identify a specific field. Moomz 10-23 03:11 PM I cannot find a "Panel 1" under anything on my system. I have the borderless client installed with a background picture on my desktop. I also have two panels and 8 other toolbars with a lot of stuff in them. I have the Ciel (with a border around it) and the Offline-only client, but I cannot find any Panel 1. I am in control panel and have seen little about it. hotgirl13 01-29 02:11 PM . jared 12-22 08:37 PM I got my ITR call letter and everything but it is just sitting there. Devyani 06-22 12:15 AM any way to do something about this? I mean an ipad is not a PC and I don't believe it is allowed to "PING" my external address if it came from a previous user. In the event you didn't know, ping an IP is equivalent to logging into a website and clicking an hyperlink. I should clarify that when I say I am logged in to the site as an American, I mean logged in to an IP address in the USA. It is not the same as logging in to a site from my home in Canada as per the post above. But that is not the case at all, what I meant was completely different. Funny 12-21 07:55 AM I'm a little bit confused because I have the same situation at home. I have a live tv cable box, a PC hooked to a TV in an enclosed room, and an OJS in a separate room (I use the PC's internet on the TV room just as a game console for now). I figured I'd be able to connect to the TV's IP address on the external network at home, but no dice. The TV is directly connected to the cable box and nothing else. I can only connect to the cable box via its IP. So, I guess the question is
